Friends and fellow disciples,

Two weeks from yesterday – October 31 – we celebrate a special day. No, not Halloween, as fun as that may be. It is Reformation Day, the day the church remembers a German monk named Martin Luther walking up to a church door in Wittenberg and nailing his 95 theses. Luther, a monk and professor, had become increasingly disillusioned with the abuses he saw in the church, and demanded a series of reforms.

Thus began, 500 years ago, what we now call the Reformation: a movement – it wasn’t intended to be a movement at the time – seeking what it felt was a more faithful way of following Jesus. This movement was characterized by a church that, in the eyes of the Reformers, gave all of its members access to Scripture, shared power, and was more open to the Holy Spirit’s leading throughout the church.

But underneath all of these important ideas was something even more key – that the true heart of the Christian Church was to be found in God’s grace shown to us in and through Jesus Christ. This grace comes to us only as a gift from God. This grace transforms our hearts and our world. This grace stirs up faith within us that we might respond to the call to discipleship. This grace is at work in the church, as God gathers us to laugh and pray and serve all of God’s people.

So began a 500-year project, building on the work of saints in the 1,500 years prior, since the twelve walked the roads of Galilee with Jesus. Even more so, we stand on the shoulders of the Israelites who wandered in the wilderness, a covenant people seeking after the One true God.

That is our work. That is our call. In today’s world, where everything moves so quickly and feels so immediate, sometimes a dose of history and perspective is important. In a world where we are consumed by the 24-hour news cycle tragedy of the day, it can be helpful to step back a bit. Not to ignore the immediate and very real suffering around us. But to understand that we are one small part of this work, this project, these holy conversations as we seek the Spirit’s leading.

We find our way into these conversations today, as we think about stewardship, as we reflect on yet another trip to Haiti, as we teach children and sing hymns and pack meals. How might we honor the work of those who have gone before? How we might we offer the gifts we have been given to do our part as we seek to follow Jesus?

I look forward very much to worship the next two weeks. This Sunday we will welcome our partner and friend from Haiti, Pastor Leon Dorleans. He will preach at both services, and you’ll have a chance to greet him at a reception in the Parlor after worship.

Next Sunday, October 29, we will celebrate Reformation Day. The music will be extraordinary, and we’ll think together about our place in this 500-year project of Reformation, as Jesus Christ calls us forward at WPC. It is also Taking the Next Step Sunday, and we ask every member to be prepared to fill out an Estimate of Giving card in worship. I am so excited about the next few weeks, as we move ahead together in faith and in hope!

Lovefeast Choir Needs You!

Lovefeast at Westminster is a very special experience. Our Lovefeast Choir consists of approximately 20 singers drawn from the Chancel Choir and the congregation/community as a whole. All are welcome!

If you love to sing Christmas music, but don’t have time to be a regular member of the Chancel Choir during this busy time of year, here is your chance to join in the fun with a very limited time commitment. Lovefeast Choir rehearses only twice, and singers are encouraged to attend both rehearsals. Even if you can only attend one rehearsal, we want you to come be part of the experience.

Rehearsals will take place:

Saturday, October 21, 1:15-2:15pm, Music Room
Come at 12:30pm to join us for lunch and meet fellow singers.

Thursday, November 30, 6:15-7:30pm, Sanctuary
This last rehearsal will be our only one in the Sanctuary, with the organ.

Lovefeast takes place on Sunday, December 3, at 5pm.

On December 3, we’ll meet in the Music Room at 4pm for a brief warm-up prior to the 5pm service. Dress is Christmas apparel of your choice – the more reds, greens, silvers, and golds, the better!

Contact: Monica Rossman (monica@wpcdurham.org; 919-489-4974, ext. 113).

Feasibility Study Update

As we shared in May, Westminster is undergoing a feasibility study this fall led by Rev. Tom Norwood of Horizons Stewardship.

This study builds on the work of WPC’s strategic plan and facilities master plan. Many of you provided feedback on this master plan at meetings this past fall and winter.

Our goal in this study is to gauge interest in a potential capital campaign and receive your feedback on a Preliminary Statement of Opportunity. Your feedback will help shape a report on a potential capital campaign that Rev. Norwood will bring to the Session at the end of November.

The feasibility study is gathering feedback via:

• Personal interviews with key stakeholders
• An email survey that will be sent to a cross-section of the congregation this week
• An in-person gathering on Wednesday, October 25, from 5:30-7pm in the Fellowship Hall. Join us that evening for dinner and a time to learn about how the feedback you provided on the facilities master plan is shaping our present vision. Please RSVP for dinner at www.bit.ly/myWPCevent. Childcare will be available for age 5 and under. Please indicate your need for childcare when you sign up for dinner.

This is an exciting time in the life of our church! Your presence, your feedback, and your prayers are essential as we discern together what we feel God is calling us to do.
We ask everyone to make it a priority to be in church next Sunday, October 29, for Taking the Next Step Sunday. It is Reformation Sunday – this year is the 500th anniversary of monk and professor Martin Luther’s actions that sparked a movement changing the Christian Church forever – and we’ll be celebrating with special music from our Chancel Choir and Brass Ensemble!

If you are a member or regular attendee of Westminster, please be prepared to respond to God’s call to generosity on Sunday, October 29. Estimate of Giving cards (see sample below) will not be mailed out prior to Taking the Next Step Sunday. Cards will be distributed during worship that day and offered to God as an act of worship and discipleship. Cards will be mailed to those unable to be in worship on October 29.

Visit www.bit.ly/wpcTtNS for all Taking the Next Step materials and resources.

WOW: First Wednesdays

Bingo Night on Wednesday, November 1 | Fellowship Hall
Dinner at 5:45pm (pizza and Dang Good Dogs)
Bingo from 6:30-7:30pm

November’s WOW: First Wednesdays promises to be big fun for everyone. Bingo is an old-time game that originated in Italy around 1530, but has become more and more popular in the U.S. throughout the centuries. Today it is a favorite across generations! Join us on November 1 for fellowship and laughter. There will be prizes for winners of all ages!

Please sign up for dinner and bingo by Monday, October 30, at www.bit.ly/myWPCEvent to help the planning team be prepared. Dinner (pizza and Dang Good Dogs) will be offered at 5:45pm.

Christian Education news

Movie Night: "Glen Campbell: I'll Be Me"
Sunday, October 22, at 6:30pm
Music Room

The Mental Health Task Force invites you to a final event in the series "Dementia: Navigating the Long Unknown."

We will host a second movie and discussion night this Sunday, October 22, from 6:30-8:30pm in the Music Room. We'll watch "I'll Be Me," a beautiful, funny, and inspiring film about music superstar Glen Campbell's struggle with Alzheimer's disease before and throughout his sold-out "Goodbye Tour." No registration required.

Committee Budget Report: Adult Christian Education Committee by Bonnie Derr

Adult Christian Education (ACE) is now a committee unto itself, providing a sharper focus on ways to provide opportunities for adults to spend time learning about and exploring God’s truth all around us. It shares the Children and Youth Christian Education Committee budget of $14,300. Decisions on how to spend funds in the ACE budget are reviewed at monthly meetings in conjunction with the Director of Christian Education.

ACE supports and provides resources for:

- Three on-going classes for adults on Sunday mornings (Bible Roundtable, Sojourners, and The Present Word)
- Sunday morning electives offered in 5-6 week terms
- Aperture: Third Wednesdays evening presentations on various topics of interest to the WPC community
- Week-day studies including the Monday Morning Bible Study, Doorways, Seekers, the Men’s Breakfast Book Study

The ACE budget funds are mostly for honorariums for guest speakers, resources for class facilitators, and hospitality for special gatherings. Examples of those opportunities include:

Aperture: Third Wednesdays has been well received as we've hosted guest speakers such as Dr. William Willimon, David Crabtree, and Rev. Alfredo Miranda with 20-50 participants.

This fall we introduced a special Sunday evening series on dementia. "Dementia: Navigating the Long Unknown" was organized and hosted by the Mental Health Task Force utilizing local professionals as guest speakers. There have been approximately 65 participants from Westminster and the community.

This year we experimented with a Lenten Community Book Read, inviting the congregation to join in reading "Way of Love" by Norman Wirzba. Our pastors beautifully integrated themes of Wirzba’s book into the sermons during Lent. Two movie/discussion nights were offered, online discussions, and a final Aperture with Norman Wirzba. There were approximately 75 participants in at least one of these aspects of the Lenten Community Book Read.

Adult Church School Elective: Term 2

Praying Our Goodbyes:
Reflection, Ritualization, and Reorientation
Through Life's Inevitable Changes

Sundays, October 22 – November 19
9:45-10:45am in Room 204
Facilitator: Geoff Vaughn

This class is for anyone who has experienced loss, whether a job change, the end of a relationship, the death of a loved one, a financial struggle, a mid-life crisis, or an extended illness.

It is designed to help us reflect, ritualize, and reorient ourselves – to help heal the hurts caused by goodbyes and the anxieties encountered when one season of life ends and another begins.
The Westminster team consisting of four doctors, a dentist, a pharmacist, four nurses, and three non-clinical people returned safely from Haiti on Sunday, October 1. Yeah! The travel down went smoothly, and we arrived in Port-Au-Prince at dinner time on Saturday, September 23. After a quick dinner and devotions, we hit the bed early because we were being picked up for church at 6am the next morning!

Sunday morning we attended services at two of the three Haiti Outreach Ministries churches, where we were greeted warmly as new and returning visitors. Afterward, we spend a couple of hours getting oriented and setting up the clinic for the next day.

Monday, the patients were waiting for us, as always, lined up around the clinic. Some had been there since 4 or 5am. That day, we saw 100 patients and 15 dental patients, with complaints ranging from fevers to malnutrition to high blood pressure to diabetes. We gave every patient 30 days of vitamins in order to address poor nutrition, as well as worm medicine for all children over age two. Triage is hopping first thing in the morning, and as it winds down after lunch, the pharmacy becomes the hub of activity, as prescriptions from four physicians start to pile up. We did actually finish early, and since we were still full of energy and enthusiasm, we decided to ask for 120 patients for the next day, and then 150 for Wednesday. Each night, we ended with devotions and prayer, plus a little medical humor. It all provides balance to the sometimes devastating events of the day.

We may have been a little overly optimistic about the number of patients, because Wednesday turned out to be a particularly hard day. The nurses administered IV treatments for several patients with severe dehydration, and we had a number of very sick babies. We sent some of them directly to the hospital, where we hoped they would receive immediate attention.

In the meantime, Joe Bell, our dentist, got the award for Perseverance in the Face of Adversity. He did many, many manual extractions, without a working drill. That was an ongoing problem all week, which we finally addressed by renting one for him on Friday. That allowed him to complete several very difficult extractions from earlier in the week. Jami Howell got the Work Through the Pain award. She fell and fractured her wrist the first night, but since she didn’t know it was fractured until she got home, continued work in the clinic.

On Wednesday, we were also scheduled to distribute the dresses and clothing to the children in the Cite Soleil elementary school, which is part of the same campus as the clinic. That made the clinic a little short staffed, but the children loved the clothes. Some of the parents actually walked to the school the next day to express their thanks. For some of them, those are the only clothes their children have, other than their school uniform.

Thursday, we left the hotel very early to go to the elementary school in Terre Noir. We arrived in time to hear the children singing in the courtyard before school – one of the highlights of the trip. There is something inspiring and incredibly hopeful about seeing the children in their uniforms, and hearing hundreds of voices echoing hymns throughout the school and courtyard. The children ARE the hope of the future for Haiti, and seeing them reinforces why we work so hard to go and work with them. Those of us who sponsored students met with them briefly, and we delivered a number of packages from sponsors here in the states. The first-timers then toured the school and the new high school, while the rest of the team members headed to the clinic to start the day.

Friday afternoon, after the last patients, we did a complete inventory of the clinic. That information goes to the HOM clinic coordinator so she will know what has been left behind that may be of use to future visiting teams. We had seen over 600 medical patients and 75 dental patients. We felt that we had done good work and had had a positive impact on that community.

Saturday, our flight was not supposed to leave until around 5:30, so we employed the services of Jacqui Labrom, a travel agent and friend of University Presbyterian Church, to give us a short tour of Port-Au-Prince, the small museum of Haitian history, and to take us up the mountain to an overlook with a beautiful view of all of Port-Au-Prince. It was important to see more than just the inside of the clinic. It was important to see the beauty of Haiti after witnessing poverty, hunger, and desperation.

THANK YOU, Westminster, for supporting this important ministry.

Pastor Leon Dorleans of Haiti Outreach Ministries will be our guest preacher this Sunday, October 22. A reception will be held in the Parlor after the 11am service with cookies and lemonade. All are invited!
youth ministry

news

This year, the Youth Group is trying out something to help the youth build strong connections with one another based on common interests – small groups! There are seven different groups and 97 youth signed up to participate in a group. Groups include:

1. Adventurers: A hiking, outdoors, running small group that explores local trails and outdoor adventures
2. Pick-Up Pack: A pick-up sports small group that will play a variety of games
3. Baking Buddies: A small group that will bake treats for those from the congregational care list and other groups within our congregation
4. Music Makers: A music small group that will gather to play music together, meet musicians, and plan music for Youth Sunday
5. Art in Action: An art small group that will make all different kinds of art together – photography, crafts, pieces for worship/bulletins, as well as meet local artists and go on art excursions
6. Game Gurus: A games small group that will gather to play board, card, and strategy games
7. Justice League: A social justice small group that will meet with local leaders and learn about ways to live into Micah 6:8

Small groups began this past Sunday, October 15, and will meet once a month. With wonderful support from small group leaders and fun activities planned, they got off to an awesome start. The Adventurers hiked Occoneechee Mountain State Park in Hillsborough. The Music Makers attended a concert at Duke Gardens. The Baking Buddies prepped and cooked salad, stuffed shells, and chocolate chip cookies. The Art in Action group took photos around Duke Gardens. The Pick-Up Pack played outdoor games. The Justice League planned its upcoming field trips.

We’re excited about the upcoming enrollment period for our youngest students! We’ll begin enrolling for our 2018-2019 school year in November. If you have a child who is not presently in our program, but old enough to attend next fall, please be sure that you have a waiting list form on file in the school office. Our cut-off date for two-year-olds has changed. Children must turn two years old by August 31, 2018, to be eligible to attend Westminster next fall. We appreciate your help in publicizing this information by letting your friends and neighbors know about the cut-off date. We’re also happy to schedule tours of our program and facility. Please have anyone interested call our office at 919-489-8432.

-- SHARE YOUR CHRISTMAS --

Before you know it, the holidays will be here!

Westminster is again participating in the Share Your Christmas program by providing gifts to disadvantaged families and individuals who are elderly or disabled. Share Your Christmas is coordinated by Durham County Department of Social Services and The Triangle Nonprofit & Volunteer Leadership Center. Look for sign-up tables in the Courtyard in early November.

If you have questions or would like to help with the organization of this project, contact Katherine Stanley (kcks68@gmail.com). Potential help includes data entry, package sorting and delivery, and helping with the sign-up tables.

Community Opportunities

Fall 2017 Nonviolent Communication Workshops

All workshops will be held here at Westminster. Workshops are free, but space is limited. Please RSVP to Eileen McAvoy at eileenmcavoy1@gmail.com.

What We Need Now: An Intro to Nonviolent Communication
This Saturday, October 21: 10am-4pm | Leader: Neal Caidin
RSVP by October 19. We will break for lunch; bring your own or enjoy a local restaurant. Eileen McAvoy will assist in leading.

In this workshop you will be introduced to the purpose of NVC through stories, poems, and illustrations; have opportunities to connect to your own natural energy to make life more wonderful for yourself and others; and, of course, learn the basics of NVC.

While simple, NVC is often challenging to embody because we are so deeply conditioned to perceive each other through judgments. With practice, the tool of NVC helps us navigate within ourselves to transform blame and judgment into a mutual awareness of our shared humanity creating more connection, peace, and collaboration.

Self-Empathy | Leader: Eileen McAvoy
Sunday, October 22: 2-5pm (RSVP by October 20)

Deepen your understanding of the importance of self-empathy and learn and practice a self-empathy process that you can easily use on your own. Learn how to connect with your own heart so you can connect compassionately with others – especially the ones who are ticking you off!

See the November 1 newsletter or email Eileen McAvoy for details on upcoming workshops in November and December.
The next WPC newsletter will be published on November 1. The deadline to submit material is October 25.

To submit material for publication, contact Communication Coordinator Kara Pearce (kara@wpcdurham.org; 919-489-4974, ext. 101).

The newsletter is emailed. If you would like to receive a paper copy by mail, please contact Kara Pearce.
