

CAPITAL CAMPAIGN TEAM

Below are the staff and volunteers who will lead Westminster's capital campaign efforts, as well as brief descriptions of their roles.

Chris Tuttle, Pastor

To help us understand how this campaign is a necessary response to God's call for Westminster to do justice, love kindness, and walk humbly, and to teach us about financial stewardship and sacrificial generosity by word and example

John Graham and Lynn Toms, Co-Chairs

To help in setting strategy, to act as spokespeople for the campaign, and to model and give witness to the stewardship journey of gratitude, prayer, and faith

Erica Hill and Anne Vann, Co-Coordinator

To oversee the administrative functions of the campaign and to support the work of the teams below

David Beischer, Lead Gifts Team

To help identify and build relationships with members of the congregation who may be able to make larger financial commitments to the campaign

Kara Pearce, Communication Team

To coordinate the communication process for the campaign

Amy Simonson and Sam Bryan, Small Groups & Prayer Team

To help us cultivate a conversation with God around the question, "Lord, what do you want to do through me?" and to coordinate presentations to Westminster's small groups about the vision of the campaign

Dana Lange and Sara Pottenger, Advance Commitments Team

To coordinate and host gatherings that will build faith and enthusiasm about the projects the campaign will enable

Kim Garcia, Celebration Team

To plan an event in April for the whole congregation to come together and share in excitement over the campaign's progress and vision

Andy Collins and Logan Toms, Connection Team

To contact members after Commitment Sunday and to develop a strategy for encouraging members to fulfill their campaign commitments

Taylor Lewis Guthrie Hartman and Don Tupper, Youth & Children Team

To encourage our children and youth to take part in creative aspects of the campaign and to teach them how to live out stewardship, gratitude, and generosity in their lives

Andy Dunk and Chris McLaughlin, Gratitude & Ministry Team

To coordinate Gratitude Sunday, a time for us to reflect on and celebrate gratitude as the wellspring of generosity, and Ministry Sunday, which will focus on the ways Westminster's missions and ministries change lives
